

Innovation and Improvement for Children in London

Sean Harris

Chief Executive, London Borough of Harrow

Chief Executive Lead Adviser for Children's Services

Chair London's Children's Innovation and Improvement Board

Creating the conditions for successful collaboration

- Proof of our collaboration concept
- Culture change – strengthened relationships, accelerated by Covid
- LIIA infrastructure to support shared learning through sub-regional and pan-London activity
- Sharing of quarterly benchmarking data
- Development of Lead Member Network
- LIIA website: resources collated for public and for secure networks

Progressing ALDCS Priorities

- Adolescent safeguarding – development of practice framework and coherent programme across partners
- SEND – multi-partner work plan to enhance experience and outcomes through learning, sharing and listening to children and families
- Resources / Sustainability – Pan-London Placements Programme
- Workforce – BAME leadership programme and workforce sufficiency

Collaboration Challenges

- Recovery from the pandemic: for children and for the system
- Financial sustainability – esp. placements, workforce. Sharing risks and investing together to save
- Tackling inequality and disproportionality
- Best use of digital / virtual approaches
- Innovating at pace and scale; making collaboration systematic and our default.
- Coherent / integrated approaches to innovation with local and national partners
